Memorial Dedicated

MONTREAL (CP)—Tribute was paid Tuesday to the late Philip Edward Layton, founder of the Canadian Federation of the Blind, when a memorial was dedicated to him at a ceremony attended by delegates to a Dominion conference of the federation from Vancouver, Regina, Moose Jaw, Hamilton, Toronto and Moncton N.B.

A biographical eulogy was presented at the dedication ceremony by C. A. Pettapiece, president of the Regina branch, who was elected president of the federal executive of the federation.

I.W.A. Proceeds With Plans For Mass Lobby In Victoria

Statements of provincial Labor Minister George S. Pearson, condemning the proposed mass lobby of the striking International Woodworkers of America on the provincial government next week, have done nothing to deter the union, Harold Pritchett, district president of the union, said here today.

In Victoria for the hearings before Chief Justice Sloan, aimed at effecting a settlement of the 15-day-old strike of 35,000 British Columbia woodworkers, Mr. Pritchett said the lobby would proceed as scheduled from up-island lumber centres of Alberni and Courtenay Monday, while striking woodworkers from the mainland would converge on Victoria by fishboat and other craft.

Mr. Pritchett said that Bert Melness, secretary-treasurer of the union's district council, was scheduled today to meet A. C. Desbriais of the B.C. Fruit Growers' Association, for discussions aimed at reopening fruit box plants.

'DEMOCRATIC EFFORT'

Mr. Pritchett described the union's projected march as a democratic effort to bring the union's view before elected representatives.

Reporting on the strike to the Vancouver Labor Council (C.L.C.), Mr. Pritchett opposed the contention of Mr. Pearson that the union was attempting to take the law into its own hands in planning the march.

Mr. Pritchett said he was at a loss to understand the minister's assertion the union was taking the law into its own hands "because of our proposal to bring our views to the attention of the members of the Legislature and the cabinet."

Victoria headquarters of Local 1-118 of the I.W.A. is rushing to completion plans for accommodation and feeding the mass labor lobby which union officials believe will total thousands.

John Wainstock, secretary of the union local, said numerous offers had been made by Victorians to billet strikers while others had come forward with offers of dishes and bedding.

VETERANS IN PARADE

Veterans of World Wars I and II in the union will head a similar parade through Victoria from Blanshard and Cormorant Streets to Beacon Hill Park, starting at 7 tonight. I.W.A. officers here said the veterans will be joined by other trade unionists in the city in a demonstration of labor-veteran solidarity.

Banners carrying "The Battle of Britain," "Dieppe," "Normandy" with those of "Vimy," "Hill 60" and "Xpries" will be displayed. At the park three veterans will speak briefly.

Union officers declined to estimate the size of the parade, other than remarking "there would be quite a crowd."

Should no settlement be effected by that date Mr. Pritchett will discuss the current strike with Dominion government labor department officials in Ottawa next month.

TO SEE FEDERAL AUTHORITIES

"I hope to go to the Canadian Congress of Labor national council meeting in Ottawa, June 12," said Mr. Pritchett, "and if the strike is not settled by then, no doubt, I will meet with federal labor authorities."

Union district headquarters in Vancouver Tuesday claimed membership in the I.W.A. had increased by 9,000 in B.C. since February, and now stood at between 25,000 and 27,000.

Fate of Vancouver Island's tomato crop is at stake as the shortage of lumber, wood products and papers becomes more acute.

The crop, valued at $500,000, goes to U.S. and eastern Canada export as well as to local domestic markets. If the strike con-

Mysterious Calls 'Plague' Oak Bay Family 3 Months

Similar to experiences several months ago, of a city woman who was plagued by bogus telephone calls and had dozens of taxi cabs and merchants calling at her house which she had not ordered, an Oak Bay family is being harassed by an unknown person or persons described by police as being "definitely unbalanced of mind."

Brunt of the attack is Mrs. J. E. Gort and family, 1745 Elgin Road, who cannot give an explanation for the nuisance, which has been continuing for three months.

Mrs. Gort's mother has been driven to a sick bed by the mysterious calls and she herself is on the verge of a nervous breakdown.

It is a 12-year-old daughter for whom Mrs. Gort fears most after receiving an untraced telephone call in which a high-pitched, hysterical voice of a woman screamed: "You had better get ready for your own funeral!"

Taxis have arrived at the house uninvited from every company in Greater Victoria. Two piano tuners, one of them totally blind, were sent by a woman with a high-pitched voice. Flowers uninvited by the Gorts arrived, and a hotel room was reserved for two weeks for the Gorts without their knowledge or need. Two hundred dollars worth of clothes were sent C.O.D., and as in the other cases, it was a woman's voice who had placed the order.

The latest trouble came from a newspaper advertisement stating that the Gorts had two apartments for rent. For the past three days hundreds of apartment-seekers have answered the advertisement about which the Gorts know nothing.

No Liquor Wrapping If Strike Continues; May Hit Grocers

If the strike of British Columbia's woodworkers continues, wrapping of bottles of liquor purchased in Liquor Control Board stores will be discontinued. W. F. Kennedy, chairman of the board, indicated today that the liquor board was beginning to feel the general shortage of paper.

"I'm afraid we're going to be in difficulty," he said, adding that besides discontinuing wrapping liquor ultimately paper may become unavailable for beer cartons and beer bottle sleeves.

A. V. Clarke, manager of the Victoria Phoenix Brewing Co. (1920) Ltd., however, indicated that his company was assured of a carton and sleeve supply for the present.

Mr. Kennedy was unable to indicate when the discontinuance of wrapping liquor would be necessary since the stock of paper was distributed in several warehouses in different parts of the province and individual stores had varying supplies on hand.

Meanwhile it was indicated the paper shortage, if the strike continues, may also hit grocers and other stores who rely heavily on B.C.-made papers and paper bags for merchandising their wares.

Strawberry Prices To Be Higher For Small Supply

A few baskets of local strawberries today in Victoria retail stores heralded the crop expected next week.

Wholesalers pointed out that this year entirely on supply and demand as the ceiling prices have been lifted. One dealer predicted they would sell from 25 to 30 per cent higher than last summer. Ceiling price then was 21 cents a basket.

J. J. Young, manager of the Saanich Fruit Growers' Association, said the 1946 crop compares favorably in size with the previous year's from this area. He noted the crop was still smaller than those of previous years. This was due to reduction in number of acres under cultivation.

Most of the berries, he said, would be held for local consumption. He added there was already a keen demand from processors for strawberries for freezing.

"That," said Mr. Young, "seems to be the coming business." He expected a certain amount of trouble in securing an adequate number of pickers. A meeting of the production committee for Saanich Thursday evening would discuss prices to be paid pickers.

Mr. Young said the Saanich Fruit Growers had bought a supply of boxes and crates for the crop. Some independent growers, he said, were having difficulty

$4,400,000 Bridge River
Contracts Let By B.C.E.R.

Award of contracts totaling $4,400,000 to British Columbia firms to launch preliminary construction work on the vast new hydro-electric development at Bridge River was announced today by officials of the B.C. Electric Railway Company.

A statement released by the company executives stated the contracts would be responsible for providing more than 330,000 man days of labor in British Columbia by the time they were completed.

The contracts announced were: J. W. Stewart and Hume & Rumble Company, Vancouver, $2,500,000 for construction of a 130-mile transmission line from Seton Lake to Vancouver.

Awarded jointly, Northern Construction Company and J. W. Stewart Company, Vancouver, $1,800,000 for construction of the diversion dam on Bridge River, spillway channel and control gates.

Canadian Ohio Brass Company, $100,000 for porcelain insulators to be installed in the plant and on the transmission lines.

In addition to the above contracts the company recently announced the award of a $750,000 contract to the Western Bridge and Steel Fabrications Limited, Vancouver, for 8,000,000 pounds of steel and for the fabrication of the 673 steel towers which will be used to carry the transmission line from the power plant on the shores of Seton Lake to Vancouver.

These contracts, totaling $5,150,000 represent the largest single project so far undertaken in the B.C. Electric's postwar spending program which will provide a total of $30,000,000 for industrial development of British Columbia. The whole Bridge River development project is estimated to consume $17,000,000 of this overall figure.

Lumber Employers Present Case Here

R. V. Stuart, right, president of Stuart Research Service Ltd., headed employers' representatives at Court House today, as they presented their case before Chief Justice Gordon Sloan in the discussions aimed at ending the 14-day-old strike of B.C. woodworkers. With him were left to right: Charles Pearce, assistant manager of Stuart Research; Alid Flavell of Thurston-Flavell Ltd., and Russell Mills of Canadian Forest Products.

Watching the discussions were representatives of 35,000 striking woodworkers of the province whose case was heard in Vancouver, Tuesday. Left to right: Emil Bjarnason, economist for the Trade Union Research Bureau at Vancouver; Bert Marcuse, director of the Trade Union Research Bureau, and Harold Pritchett, district president of the International Woodworkers of America.

No Official Alarm
Over Labor Lobby

The proposed lobby of several thousand striking I.W.A. workers is not occasioning any alarm for law and order on the part of city officials.

"I anticipate no trouble," Mayor Percy George said today, in answer to a question. "These men are all reasonable and orderly people and I see no reason why we should seek out trouble which is most unlikely to occur."

Names of 1,000 war veterans who are willing to pay $175 to $200 each to charter the ship are sought by the committee, which later will ask the government to refund the usual cost of bringing war brides to Canada.

Campaign Against CANCERB.C. Ready To Reopen Discussions
On Ottawa Tax Proposals—Hart

British Columbia government is ready to go to Ottawa at any time to discuss further the Dominion-Provincial conference financial proposals, Premier John Hart told the Vancouver Board of Trade this afternoon.

Concluding an address in which he outlined the previous Dominion-Provincial discussions, Mr. Hart said: "I can only reiterate, in the strongest terms, that we are ready to go to Ottawa at any time to discuss further these matters, and are prepared to co-operate with the Dominion and the other provinces in an effort to find a solution to these problems so that during the three-year trial period, a tribunal may be set up to study and recommend a fair division of the revenue sources between the Dominion and the province, with the object of preventing double taxation."

Mr. Hart said British Columbia's re-entry into the income and corporation tax field would not mean increased taxes for the taxpayers of the province.

He added: "There should be only one tax-collecting agency, with one set of returns. We have asked the Dominion if they would collect the income and corporation taxes for us should it be necessary."

Re-entry of the province into the personal and corporation tax fields appears inevitable since no agreement had been reached at the Dominion-Provincial Conference discussions which adjourned indefinitely last May 3.

Mr. Hart said no further burden on the taxpayers would be levied if the provincial government again entered the personal and corporation tax fields because under the current war tax agreement the Dominion was obligated to reduce the corporation tax by a sum not to exceed 10 per cent if the provinces again collected these taxes.

Bert Marcuse, director of the Trade Union Research Bureau.

Strike Talks
To Conclude
Here Thursday

No statement as to progress in discussions here before Chief Justice Gordon Sloan aimed at effecting a settlement of the 14-day-old strike of 35,000 B.C. woodworkers was made by either representatives of the operators or employees at the conclusion of the opening sessions at court house today.

The Chief Justice flew from Vancouver to hear representations from the operators, the International Woodworkers of America having presented their case in the mainland city, Tuesday. It was expected the Victoria discussions would conclude Thursday.

All sessions are being held in camera.

R. V. Stuart, president of Stuart Research Service Ltd., professional negotiators for 147 of the largest operators of the province, led the employers' representatives. With him were Charles Pearce, assistant manager of Stuart Research, Alid Flavell of Thurston-Flavell Ltd., and Russell Mills of Canadian Forest Products. The latter two came to Victoria as witnesses in presentment of the operator's side of the dispute.

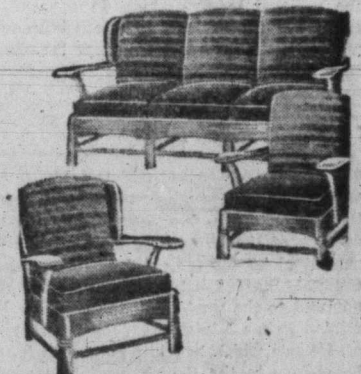

Claude McAlpine, K.C., appeared for the operators. With him was W. H. Heffernan, solicitor for Stuart Research.

Heading representatives of the woodworkers for the hearings, which opened at 11 in Court of Appeal, were Harold Pritchett, district president of the International Woodworkers of America; Emil Bjarnason, economist for the Trade Union Research Bureau at Vancouver and

NOT A WISE PLAN

MEMBERS OF THE I.W.A. NOW ON strike will not improve their cause by a mass demonstration in this city. Every fair-minded citizen and taxpayer will hope the would-be lobbyists will heed the advice which Hon. George Pearson, provincial Minister of Labor, gave them yesterday. His task is difficult enough in the ordinary way; it is no simpler in his role as an agent of the Dominion government in this matter. Though the workers involved may feel they are strengthening their case by demanding action from the Coalition administration, by the implied threat of taking the law into their own hands, they will also run the risk of alienating public opinion—regardless of what the average person may think of the merits or demerits of the paralyzing dispute.

Apart from the virtually impossible task of providing accommodation in Victoria for the contemplated "invasion" of a striking army of 3,000, the plan which Mr. Pearson discourages, both on legal and commonsense grounds, seems to ignore the progress of the negotiations which Chief Justice Sloan is conducting. This eminent conciliator already has heard the two sides to the dispute in his final effort to evolve a basis of settlement for presentation to the federal Minister of Labor. Nothing the officials of the I.W.A. may do for the moment, therefore, short of ordering the men back to work, is likely to influence this procedure. Nor do we believe the strikers are in any mood to disturb the commendably calm atmosphere in which the inquiry and the exercise of union prerogative have been carried out.

BACK TO THE OLD PRICE

UNLESS THE DOMINION GOVERNMENT has a sudden change of heart, of which there is little likelihood, milk now selling in this community at 11 cents and 13 cents a quart will cost the consumer 13 cents and 15 cents, respectively, on and after June 1. In other words, the retail price will go back to where it was nearly four years ago, when the federal authorities, desirous of keeping down the cost of living, subsidized milk to the extent of two cents. Whether it acted wisely or not is immaterial at this stage; it certainly was not responding to any clamor for a reduction. This was national policy. Revival of the old rates, therefore, does not mean that the retailer will get any more for the product he distributes. He will get precisely the same; the consumer will pay what has hitherto come out of the public till at Ottawa. It is the end of the consumer subsidy—which has cost the country approximately $20,000,000 annually from the start.

It is not within our province to attempt to influence consumer reaction to this resumption of the old price for milk. But what every purchaser of this important commodity should bear in mind is that the distributor must follow government instruction. This should suggest to the housewife that she will be wasting her time if she should be tempted to argue about what she may feel is the inequity of this government policy with the man who delivers her milk every morning, in fair weather or foul. He is merely obeying orders. He frequently has troubles of his own. And we in this favored part of the world ought to be genuinely thankful that we can drink as much milk as we like when we like—and at least six cents a quart cheaper than in the United States.

All subsidies, of course, are expedients; they are determined by unusual conditions. In the last analysis, moreover, they become part of a system. The fact that the two-cent subsidy to the consumer appeared to be a concession does not alter the further fact that its cost was entered on the debit side of the national ledger—which, in the end, is everybody's concern. So the government now asks the consumer to accept the obligation of paying directly this share of the nation's food account.

NOT THE BEST WAY

IN ITS NEWS COLUMNS ON MONDAY, the London Evening Standard published its version of "a co-ordinated plan for the defence of the Empire as a single unit"—submitted by former chief of the Imperial General Staff Lord Alanbrooke—and announced to the world that the overseas Dominion Prime Ministers rejected it at their conference which has just concluded its deliberations in the British capital. It was a four-point proposal to include joint military missions with headquarters at "important strategic centres," dispersal of military and industrial resources within the Commonwealth, redistribution of Empire manpower for more effective wartime purposes, and co-ordinated planning of military and scientific research.

Since the owner of the Evening Standard is Lord Beaverbrook, the former Canadian who has developed an almost rabid imperialistic complex, and who naturally maintains numerous influential contacts with Downing Street, there is no reason to assume that the London daily is far wrong in its estimate of what took place at the parley in question. And when it says that both Mr. Mackenzie King and Field Marshal Jan Christiaan Smuts, speaking for Canada and the Union of South Africa, respectively, were averse to this aspect of a "common foreign policy" for the Empire—few who have followed their previous utterances on this subject will be in the least surprised. But when the Standard says they rejected the plan because of opposition which would immediately be forthcoming from influential sections in their own countries, it, too, was mindful of certain geographical—as well as political—considerations which will not down. Little imagination is required to visualize Canada's position if, for example, relations between one or both of the southern Dominions and the United States were to become strained to the point of armed conflict. Such a prospect, of course, will strike the average citizen of the Empire as fantastic to a degree. But less than two months ago, General Sir Thomas Blamey, former commander-in-chief of the Australian forces, told a Melbourne audience that "it would be a mistake to imagine the present friendly relationship between the two countries could not deteriorate into war."

Some students of history will probably argue that if more heed had been paid to the warnings of military men in the past, the world might have avoided the recent war. The average man in the street, on the other hand, is more likely to point to the bankrupt condition of statesmanship between 1918 and 1939 as the real cause of the holocaust, from which the peoples of this troubled planet will suffer for many a day. All right-thinking persons everywhere, therefore, must assist in strengthening the United Nations Organization so that its machinery will be formidable enough to avoid the old and well-defined pitfalls, and thus reduce the establishment of an enduring peace to practical politics. To this resolve both Prime Minister King and Prime Minister Smuts have pledged their respective Dominions. And despite the confusions of the moment, the peoples of the United States and the Soviet Union surely will not fail in their obligations to the common objective.

THE CASE OF MR. TRUMAN

UNION OFFICIALS OF THE UNITED States railway brotherhoods are evidently finding it difficult to apply a term to Mr. Truman adequately to describe their detestation of the strike legislation which he sent to the Congress. Other organizations have joined in the chorus, some calling it "naked, open Fascism," while the National Farmers' Union depicts the situation as "a shameful hour in American history." All the threats rolled into one, however, spell the promise of union action and union funds to defeat those Representatives who voted for the anti-strike bill in the lower chamber at the Congressional elections, next November, and the President himself, of course, if he should "choose to run" in 1948.

What happens to the political tempers of our friends in the neighboring Republic between now and next November and the fall of 1948 is not our business. What Mr. Truman did last Saturday, on the other hand, required a tremendous amount of moral as well as political courage. He saw his nation's whole economy threatened with complete strangulation; a drastic condition demanded drastic action; he went the limit. Regardless of whether the President was wise or not—more than 7,000 telegrams carried support—the railways resumed operations before the stoppage was many hours old. If about 400,000 union workers were annoyed, more than 136,000,000 Americans were relieved.

What Mr. Truman proposes to do or not to do in 1948 is probably not worrying Mr. Truman a great deal at this stage. Only a few days ago his political friends and political enemies alike were accusing him of lack of backbone—of total incapacity to rise to the occasion of his country's greatest peril. Doubtless many of these today are condemning him with bell, book and candle. There is just the possibility, however, that when the hot convention days come round in the summer of 1948, the present chief executive will recall that 10-word document with which President Coolidge announced his intentions on August 2, 1927—"I do not choose to run for President in 1928"—and issue something like it. But much can happen to change his political prospects before then. On the other hand, incidentally, many wonder why anybody should want "the toughest job in the world."

SHOWING BENEFITS

THE SUCCESS OF PRE-PRIMARY classes in Victoria schools—a proving-ground for this province in that educational development—had impressed other municipalities in this community before implementation of the Cameron Report clauses brought the different municipal units under one administration. Oak Bay had given serious consideration to the establishment of similar courses and other districts had noted with approval the achievements in the city. It would be incorrect to suggest that creation of the larger board made possible the arrangements for new pre-primaries in Oak Bay and Saanich when the next school year opens. But the value of consolidation in facilitating this expansion will be readily understood. It becomes possible, under the new administration, to co-ordinate the resources of all districts in the extension of this valuable preparatory medium to formal school activity. The new classes to be opened in the old Oak Bay High School building and at Cloverdale will benefit as much from the city's experience as will the three new units to be opened in Victoria schools. Duplication of organization is avoided and cohesion is assured. The advantages of amalgamation are appropriately exemplified in this broadening of educational opportunities in the larger area.

MRS. NOGGIN'S ON MORALS. AFTER CAREFULLY applying insect poison to her strawberry plants, my neighbor, Mrs. Noggin, struggled massively to her feet to announce that she was delighted with the results of the recent Dominion Provincial Conference in Ottawa. As this conference is commonly regarded by lay observers as a failure, I asked Mrs. Noggin why she considered it so successful.

"Because," said she, "it was based on moral principles. When Drew and Duplessis smashed it up they were acting according to their conscience. They weren't concerned with money. They were only interested in morals. The Ottawa government plans, says Drew, is immoral and therefore I will reject it. I will not take subsidies from Ottawa says, 'e, because they are wicked and, besides, they're too small. The Dominion plan, says Drew, is monstrous. It will ruin the provinces and therefore I will crush this evil thing under my feet,' 'e says, and couldn't you raise your bid a little? Do you think, says Drew, I would undo the sacred work of the Founding Fathers by taking Ottawa money? No, sir, I will never be a party to it unless the price is right."

"WELL, SEEN THAT Drew is fighting on a moral principle only and not interested in money, Ottawa offers to pay 'im more. But still it ain't enough. Wot! says Drew, do you think for a moment I will betray the country and condemn unborn generations of Ontario children to slavery? Never, unless you raise the finger. So they raise it again but still it ain't moral. Why, says Drew, the bigger subsidies you pay the provinces, the worse the country will be destroyed and your offer is still far too low and quite insufficient to a man of principle like me. If we must take money, let it be plenty, as Uncle 'Erbert said when 'e put over the sewer deal in the city council of Liverpool. But 'Isley don't understand these 'igher principles and 'e won't pay any more. So Drew goes 'ome with 'is principles but without 'is money which, as 'Erbert always said, is a position which 'as little to recommend it."

"THEN DUPLESSIS takes on where Drew leaves off. Now Duplessis is a man of principle, too and 'e puts the welfare of the country above any financial advantage. Duplessis will never play politics with the people's money between elections. So Duplessis says this ideal of Ottawa 'andin' money over to the provinces will destroy Confederation and rip the 'ole thing to shreds but, 'e says, in the interests of the nation, I'll take it if you'll just sweeten the pot a bit. If Confederation is to be destroyed, 'e says, lets do it good and not mean and stingy about it. Wot am I offered to lay down the principles of a lifetime? Well, the offer ain't enough on account of 'is principles is so 'igh. I never seen 'igher principles than Duplessis's. They'd bust the treasury."

"So then the newspaper boys get 'old of Bracken and asked 'im where 'e stands in all this. Now there's a clear-headed, fearless statesman fer you! Never any question where John stands—straight in the middle with a foot on each side of the fence."

"SO WHEN THE reporters ask 'im, Bracken says 'e 'opes this 'ere business won't get into politics. You got to keep these important public questions from becoming too well known, 'e says, or otherwise people will see that Drew 'as repudiated everything I ever said. So Bracken 'as brought out a brand new theory of democracy. Why, 'e's goin' to keep government out of politics altogether. 'Tis so simple, so staggerin' simple! Keep government out of politics and all our troubles is over. But no one ever thort of it before."

"But the reporters ain't satisfied. Wot about this 'ere business, they say. 'I'm in favor of a settlement, says Bracken. Wot settlement, the reporters say. A satisfactory settlement, 'e says. Just wot kind, they say. A fair settlement, 'e says. Just wot do you mean, Mr. Bracken, they say. 'Tis quite clear, 'e says. 'I'm in favor of prosperity for all. I've never wavered in that view, 'e says, in face of all my opposition. And 'e says to the reporters if you boys can keep Drew's speeches out of the papers I'd appreciate it very much as a personal favor."

"WELL, DREW GOES 'ome to Toronto to 'think it over and there 'e begins to 'ear from the boys in the back room. And it turns out they ain't interested in all the figgers and algebra Drew 'as been givin' forth at Ottawa but one thing they understand. They don't like payin' two income taxes like Drew 'as plannin'. When you 'ave to pay two income taxes it clarifies the mind wonderfully."

"So Drew, 'avin' busted 'up the conference, announces it ain't busted up at all but merely adjourned for tea and, besides, 'e was 'Isley 'as busted it. Then he finishes the argument by sayin' all the tax money collected in Ontario by Ottawa belongs to Ontario anyways and only 'anded over to Ottawa as a kind of charity on account of Ontario people is so nacherally generous."

"SO NOW 'ISLEY will 'ave to get the money outside the provinces from the Eskimos at the North Pole, and from wot 'e 'ear the Eskimos 'ave a rooted objection to income taxes as a matter of principle, same as Drew and Duplessis. It's all a matter of principle, as 'Erbert said before the judge sentenced 'im."

Menkind cannot in present plight bear new shocks without descending to altogether cruder and primordial forms—Winston Churchill.

Saanich Complains of 'Run-Around' On Amalgamation

"We're getting the run-around," complained Councillor J. W. Casey on the amalgamation boundary line question discussed at a meeting of the Saanich Council Tuesday night.

The Greater Victoria Inter-municipal committee recommended that Saanich approach the provincial government to select the boundary between those parts of the municipality to be included and excluded in the amalgamation proposal.

Councillor Casey pointed out that the provincial government had told Saanich to go to the inter-municipal committee on the question, and now the committee was sending them back to where they started.

It was decided to leave the matter to Reeve A. G. Lambrick and members of the municipal amalgamation committee to discuss the question with the Department of Municipal Affairs.

PRELIMINARY SURVEY
Another recommendation from the inter-municipal committee that arrangements be made "as soon as possible" for the making of a preliminary survey of the amalgamation question was endorsed.

The committee in a letter signed by W. P. Wright, secretary, suggested that the preliminary survey be made "in respect of such matters as finance, debt, taxation of the area, outstanding taxes and public works and other requirements together with estimates of cost thereof, in connection with the portion of Saanich suggested for inclusion in the Greater Victoria amalgamation proposal, and that the results of this survey be submitted to this committee for consideration in the late summer or early autumn when it is anticipated the proposed new amalgamation boundary line of the Saanich area shall have been determined."

Building permits have been issued to A. G. Morson to make additions to 1615 Pinewood Avenue costing $1,500; to Mrs. R. A. Johnston to build a 5-room house at 3038 Washington Ave., $6,500; and to F. H. Foster to build a 6-room house at 1477 Fairfield Road, cost $6,500.

Saanich Guarding Caterpillar Menace

The tent caterpillar menace in Saanich is being looked after by the municipality, it was stated at a meeting of the Saanich council Tuesday night, although details of the control were not given.

The city wrote the municipality pointing out the efforts being made to exterminate the pest within its boundaries, and asking Saanich to co-operate in the work, to which Reeve A. G. Lambrick replied:

"We are taking all steps possible under the circumstances to handle the situation."

To Open Five More Pre-Primary Classes

Five more pre-primary school classes will be opened in Greater Victoria during the next school term, J. F. K. English, municipal inspector of schools, announced today.

These extra pre-primaries will bring the number in the district up to eight, and will provide facilities for another 300 five-year-olds, he said.

They will be located in Oak Bay, probably at the old Oak Bay High School; in Victoria West, which will serve some children from Esquimalt; at North Ward School; at Margaret Jenkins School; and in Saanich, probably at Cloverdale School.

Fewer Meat Coupons Turned In Here

"Share with the hungry" was the appeal issued today by Brig. W. K. G. Colquhoun, C.B.E., M.C., chairman of the Canadian Red Cross Coupon Collection Committee, in asking Victorians to turn in any extra meat coupons.

Brig. Colquhoun pointed out that turning in of surplus coupons so that more meat might be sent to Europe began as a voluntary movement in Victoria

Campaign To Keep Riding School Open

A campaign to keep the riding school at Willows Fairgrounds appears under way as Mayor Percy George received a petition signed by 33 people, the majority residents of Oak Bay, claiming that the school was a valuable asset to the community, especially to the younger generation. In the same mail 13-year-old Sandra Joan Sturdy wrote to ask that saddle horses be allowed to stay at Willows.

During the first day of the appeal, two week ago, 168 coupons were handed in by Victorians. Since then the amount Sinclair, for her marriage Tuesday evening in St. John's Church to Martin John Nickels, twin son of Mr. and Mrs. M. Nickels, 1010 Linden Avenue. Rev. Comley officiated and F. Chubb was at the organ.

Similar frocks of chiffon were worn by the bridesmaids; Miss Jean Hamilton choosing pale pink, and Miss Enid Walker, pale blue. Their sweetheart headresses were of matching net and they carried arm bouquets of pink snapdragons and carnations. A reception was held in the lower Crystal Garden ballroom, where the groom's mother was assisted in receiving by Mrs. B. Munro, a friend of the bride's family. Rev. Comley proposed the toast to the bride.

Leaving for a honeymoon in Vancouver and the Sound cities, the bride wore a leaf green suit with matching hat, brown topcoat and corsage bouquet of gardenias and pink roses. Mr. and Mrs. Nickels will reside in Victoria.

Laurel Harney Resigns As Manager Of Victoria Athletics

Flutterball Hurlers Star For Washington

Washington's five-star pitching staff, with its accent on dipping knucklers and darting butterfly pitches, looms as the latest stumbling block in Boston's pennant path.

Only seven games off the Red Sox pace, and a scant half game out of the runner-up spot, Ozzie Bluege's Nationals have "flattered" into the flag chase on a sizzling two-week record of 11 victories in their last 13 starts.

The ancient Johnny Niggeling and Dutch Leonard each have accounted for three decisions in the recent hot streak. Niggeling going all the way three successive times. Roger Wolfe, Mickey Haefner and Walt Masterson of the starting contingent each have one verdict and Sid Hudson and Rae Scarborough triumphed on relief.

Leonard's latest success was a post 24-1 effort against New York last night, spelling both Bill Dickey's home debut as Joe McCarthy's successor and the Yankee Stadium's first night game.

Detroit also closed on the leaders. Freddy Hutchinson accounted for his second victory,

Navy Nine Scores 8-4 Victory Over Canadian Legion

Behind the seven-hit flinging of Fidler, Navy turned back the Canadian Legion 8-4 in last night's city-league baseball clash. Victory moved the bluejackets into second place with an even record in their four games to date. Legion and Eagles are tied for third, each with one win in four starts.

Seven runs in the third inning on the strength of four walks and three hits featured by outfielder Ray Moretti's triple won the game for the Navy. Legion rallied in the seventh when four hits, including a two-base blow by Bill Prior, gave them three tallies.

Legion used three hurlers in an attempt to halt the Navy. Frank Scroggs started but left in the third, to be replaced by Johnny Kirchner. The latter had trouble finding the plate and left the box in favor of Lloyd Cann, who finally got the side out.

Tonight's amateur game will see the Legion oppose the Eagles, starting at 6:30.

Short score follows:

Navy	8	14	3
Legion	4	7	5

Batteries: Fidler and Smith; Scroggs, Kirchner (3), Cann (3) and Andrews.

Memorial Cup Soccer Tussle This Evening

The playing date for the Tony Hope Memorial Trophy which has been kicked about so much, has finally been decided. This soccer attraction will be held tonight at 6:30 at Macdonald Park and will bring together Victoria West and a strong squad drawn from the remainder of the senior league clubs.

The teams played to a 3-3 draw in the first match and the winner tonight gains possession of the trophy, presented in memory of Lt. Tony Hope, a well-known local soccer figure who paid the supreme sacrifice.

The picked team personnel follows: Wally Rowe, Eddie DeCosta, Ken Druce, Ron Webster, Joe Robbins, Tommy Druce, Dennis Shubrook, Alfie Jenkins, Daryl Popham, Andy Anderson, "Rookie" Wright, Nip Sage, Alec McCormack, George Payne and R. Thompson.

Rifle Club To Hold Gypsy Tour Sunday

Members of the Vancouver Island Rifle and Gun Club will swing back into action Sunday when a "Gypsy Tour" is staged. Members will be picked up in town at 10:30 outside the Tillamook Athletic Club and will meet at the clubhouse on Sooke Road, half mile beyond Glen Lake store, at 11.

Secretary Bill Lucas reported yesterday that at a recent meeting the membership voted unanimously to affiliate with the British Columbia Rifle Association.

For full particulars relating to the affiliation members should contact Lucas, who reports club personnel have been invited to a big B.C.R.A. shoot in Vancouver, July 15.

VANCOUVER (CP)—North Shore United reached the semi-final of the Province Cup soccer competition by defeating Girardis, 2 to 1, in the third round Monday night, but were given quite a scare by the district league team in the final 10 minutes of the game.

Decisive Triumphs In Fastball Games

H.M.C.S. Dockyard Civil Service, Spencer's girls, K.V.'s Chinese Students, Black and Whites and Navy Wrens checked in with victories in Lower Island Fastball Association games played Tuesday night.

A senior-B men's fixture saw Dockyard team nose through with a 13 to 12 triumph over Canadian Legion.

Chinese Students had a fairly easy time of it with Spencer's in another B men's game. They finished up winner by a 16 to 5 count. The other game in this division saw K.V.'s take the measure of Dominion Meat Market 13 to 6.

In a juvenile boys engagement Black and Whites emerged an 11 to 8 winner over Esquimalt Crusaders.

In the women's bracket Spencer's went hog-wild at the bat and smothered New Method under an avalanche of runs. Final score read 42 to 14 for the store ladies.

Wrens took Hepcats into camp to the tune of 20 to 3.

Sacramento Takes 14-Inning Thriller

Young Gerald Staley of Sacramento today boasts a 14-inning pitching mark which failed to outlast, but won over the staying power of the Pacific Coast Baseball League's persistent veteran, Ad Liska of the Portland Beavers.

The 14-inning duel between the two pitchers last night produced a 1 to 0 victory for Sacramento on an unearned run. In holding the Beavers to four hits over the prolonged stretch, dealing no walks and fanning five, Staley won his third game against four defeats.

Last night Liska allowed nine hits, but a wild throw from third baseman Glen Crawford to first let in the tally that beat him. It was Liska's seventh loss this season against a single win.

The San Francisco Seals climbed to within a game of the league-leading Oakland A's, rained out last night at Seattle, on a 4 to 1 win over the Hollywood Stars. The San Diego Padres pounced on the Los Angeles for a 6 to 2 decision, sinking the third-place Angels to four and a half games behind the leaders.

At Los Angeles, Padre pitcher Eppa Pottenger won a free-hitting contest in which he gave up 11 bingles, while he and his mates collected 12 off Yank Terry, driven from the mound in the eighth, and two successors. San Diego continued the assault in that inning on Clem Hausmann and Orel Baker and put across three runs.

COAST LEAGUE

Sacramento 14 runs, 14 hits, 10 errors. Batteries: Staley and Conroy; Liska and Holm.

Hollywood 1 run, 2 hits, 1 error. Batteries: Conroy and Under; Jensen and Orosdowall.

San Diego 6 runs, 12 hits, 1 error. Batteries: Pottenger and Ballinger; Terry; Hausmann (3); Baker (3) and Williams.

With Title Bout Over Month Away Conn At Fighting Weight Members-Only Shoot Carded For Sunday

GREENWOOD LAKES, N.J. (CP)—With nearly a month to go before he meets Joe Louis for the heavyweight boxing championship of the world, Billy Conn is sharp as a razor and cocky as a terrier.

The 28-year-old Pittsburgh Irishman, who was knocked out in the 13th round of his 1941 meeting with Louis, is down to 182½ pounds and confident of victory June 19. He talks easily and casually of his chances and declares with obvious sincerity: "I wish the fight was tomorrow."

Veteran observers who have watched both Conn and Louis in training see Billy's point. Louis, who started training some time after Conn, is still considerably overweight. He has been slow getting into shape and Conn is rated as a better bet right now, whereas three weeks of hard training can help Louis a lot.

Conn followers are a little worried that their fighter may be a little too fine for this stage of training. "He might stale off some," they say.

"Sure, I feel swell," he told the fight writers. "I'm right down there. Weigh 182½ now and I'll weigh in at 180 or under. That's my best weight. I was 174 when I met Joe before."

Conn's appearance supported his words. He still overlaps his trunks a bit at the waist but his legs are hard and the punching muscles in his shoulders are like jumping snakes.

McDiarmid, Rochon Win In Net Trials

MONTREAL (CP)—Don McDiarmid of Ottawa and Henri Rochon and George Robinson of Montreal remained undefeated Tuesday in the second day's trials runs at the Monkland Tennis Club in efforts to determine the champions of Canada's Davis Cup team.

McDiarmid, prominent in Dominion tennis circles since before the war pressed a lot harder than the previous day and was forced to come from behind after dropping the first set, to win 3-6, 6-2, 6-4, 6-1 over Montreal's Jimmy Macken.

Henri Rochon, slim, black-thatched French-speaking Montrealer, disposed of Walter Stohberg of Vancouver in straight sets 6-4, 6-1, 7-5.

George Robinson, playing on his home plot, mastered Jimmy Skelton of Vancouver, who fell apart in the final set after making a game bid in the second and third cantos, 6-4, 1-6, 7-5, 6-0.

It was the first loss for the westerner who downed Jean J. (Jay-Jay) Desjardins in straight sets Monday.

NORTH SHORE WINS

VANCOUVER (CP)—North Shore Indians defeated Richmond Daily 11 to 8 in an inter-city lacrosse game here Tuesday night.

MIDGET BASEBALL

In last night's Midget Baseball League games Esquimalt Taxi defeated Ker Electric, 12 to 6, and Blue Line Taxi checked in with a 17 to 5 victory over the Eagles.

Tonight's scheduled fixture between the Tillamooks and Navy at Macdonald Park has been postponed.

Club Directors Seek 'Name' Player For Job

Resignation of Laurel Harney as manager of the Victoria Athletics in the Western International Baseball League was today announced by directors of the club. Harney's decision to give up the position was made in Spokane where the local club is now engaged in a series with the Indians.

Directors of the Athletics immediately made plans to secure a new pilot for the team, at present resting in the league cellar. A well-known "name" player has been contacted and it is expected that negotiations will be completed within the next couple of days when he will take over the management of the club. It is expected the new leader will take the role of a playing-manager. Harney will continue in charge of the team until his successor arrives to take over.

Appointed manager of the Athletics when the local club was granted a franchise in the W.I.B.L. Harney has been unable to produce a winning combination. In their recent 14-day home stay against Spokane and Wenatchee the team was only able to win two out of 14 games. Going back on the road the Athletics dropped two more games at Wenatchee and last night were blanked 5 to 0 by Spokane.

SIGN TWO PLAYERS

Athletics gained additional bolstering yesterday with the signing of Neil Clifford and Jimmy Dunn, two former Spokane players. Clifford, a catcher, worked behind the plate for the A's last night, while Dunn, an infielder, handled the shortstop position.

Spokane's Milt Cadinha came up with a two-hit pitching trick to turn back the A's. The Indians picked up 12 hits from Al Raimondi.

The Salem Senators, with their new manager Ted Gullic at the helm, defeated the visiting Vancouver Capilanos 5 to 4. Yakima took the first game of their series with Tacoma on the Tigers' diamond, 1 to 0.

Other prize winners follow: Men, first 18 holes, Dr. W. R. Fumac, Seattle; second 18 holes, Capt. J. A. Hobday, Qualicum Beach; third 18 holes, B. Frost, Vancouver; par competition, T. L. Randall, Vancouver; hidden-hole competition, Dick Jenkin, Qualicum Beach. Women, first 18 holes, Miss J. Campbell, Victoria; second 18 holes, Miss Ane Zinkham, Vancouver; third 18 holes, Mrs. Jackson, Nanaimo; par competition, Miss Mary Penny, Qualicum Beach; hidden-hole competition, Miss Margaret Priestley, Vancouver.

CRICKET MATCH

With George Payne and G. C. Grant contributing 24 and 22 runs, respectively, a picked cricket eleven defeated the Royal Canadian Navy, 47 to 61, in a friendly match Sunday at Beacon Hill pitch.

Seek National Records At Swim Gala Saturday

The keenest competition Victoria's swimming fans have had the privilege of watching this year is the prediction for Saturday night in the Crystal Garden pool when around 30 of the province's best pool talent of both sexes seek to establish new B.C. and Canadian records in a championships gala sponsored by the Victoria Flying "Y" Swimming Club.

First race will start at 8 and the two heaviest entries are from coach Archie McKinnon's Flying "Y" Club and coach Percy Norman's Vancouver Amateur Swimming Club. Both entries near the 40 mark, Victoria Amateur Swimming Club contributors.

Main strength of the Flying "Y" entry will be in the male sections, with emphasis on the junior boys. McKinnon is confident his swimmers will cop the lion's share of the points in the individual and team events in the boys' and men's departments. Vancouver's strength will be in the women's sections.

Both McKinnon and Norman figure some of their star entries have the ability to smash national marks.

VICTORIA A.S.C. BACK IN COMPETITION

After a wartime relapse, Victoria A.S.C. is fast getting into stride and is back in the competitive picture again. This club's entries will include: Senior men, Bill Stephenson, Colin Crawford, Bob McNeill and W. Doddridge; junior boys, David Lee, J. Limer, Miles Dighton and Jack Wellburn; juvenile girls, Margaret Ward. Juniors Dighton and Wellburn snowed well in the recent schools gala.

Charles Reid, president of the B.C. Section of the C.A.S.A., will officiate at the meet. McKinnon hopes through him to get the final word as to whether B.C. will be represented in the national meet in Hamilton July 6 as a team or each club acting on its own to send entries.

The Public Has Said It Does NOT Approve Compulsory Union Membership

A closed or union shop agreement means that all who work on a job where employers and union have signed such a contract must either join the union or be fired. The union shop is one of the demands made by the I.W.A. in the present lumber industry strike.

In April, 1943, the Canadian Institute of Public Opinion (Gallup Poll) asked these questions of a representative cross-section of Canadian working people and got the following revealing answers:

QUESTION:—Do you believe that you, as a worker, should be able to work for anybody you wish who is willing to hire you, whether or not you belong to a union?

ANSWER:	Yes	No	Undecided
All persons	79%	12%	9%
Union members	69%	25%	6%
Non-members	83%	8%	9%

QUESTION:—Do you believe that every worker should be able to join a union or not join a union as he sees fit, without affecting his job?

ANSWER:	Yes	No	Undecided
All persons	80%	11%	9%
Union members	72%	23%	5%
Non-members	83%	7%	10%

QUESTION:—Should an employer be allowed to hire any worker he wants to whether or not the worker belongs to any union?

ANSWER:	Yes	No	Undecided
All persons	75%	16%	9%
Union members	60%	33%	7%
Non-members	80%	10%	10%

In March, readers of the magazine "British Columbia Digest" in all walks of life, answered the question: "Does the Closed Shop Benefit the Working Man?" The verdict of the poll was:

Yes	38.2%
No	61.8%

Employers in the Lumber Industry agree with this majority view. They do not think it should be either their right or duty to compel any man to join any kind of an organization—political, religious, fraternal or labor—in order to hold his job. They believe that in a free country a man should be free to make such decisions for himself, without force or intimidation.

Victoria Catholics Not Banned From Joining Rotary

There is no ban on Roman Catholics in Victoria joining the Rotary or any other of the local service clubs, Bishop J. C. Cody, Roman Catholic bishop of Victoria, said today.

It was reported from Ottawa that Mgr. Eugene Limoges, Bishop of Montreal, had "virtually obliterated the Maniwaki Rotary Club," by ordering his parishioners to take no further part in the organization. Bishop Limoges was reported to have charged that Rotary was a type of "Freemasonry" because membership was open to all classes and creeds.

J. W. Cuthland, president of the Maniwaki Rotary Club, said that as a result of the bishop's drastic action, the Maniwaki club, would be forced to surrender its charter, which was obtained last October.

Bishop Cody said that there was no general order against Rotary or any other service club issued by the church, and he was convinced that Bishop Limoges' order was based on some purely local condition which justified his action.

Express Deliveries

Express deliveries in Victoria have been extended to cover a wider area, which includes Victoria, Oak Bay and a portion of Esquimalt, Mayor Percy George was informed by the Express Traffic Association today.

Some time ago Mayor George asked that the service be extended to the city limits, stating the needs of the city were not being properly cared for.

Town Topics

Convicted in city police court today on a charge of having an unregistered .38-calibre revolver in his possession, Kong Chow, a Chinese, was fined $25 and $250 costs.

Theft of a quantity of antique jewelry and crockery from the Treasury House, 1028 Fort Street, Tuesday night was reported to city police by H. Curry, proprietor.

John Curtis was fined $35 and remanded for a week on possible suspension of his driver's license when he pleaded guilty in city police court today to a dangerous driving charge.

Mayor Percy George, Ald. D. D. McTavish and Ald. R. A. C. Dewar will leave Thursday morning to attend the Portland Rose Festival. They will return to the city either June 8 or 9.

Residents of the Home for Aged and Infirm Men were entertained with a moving picture show operated by three members of the Oak Bay Community Centre Monday evening.

Transit By-Law Necessitates 4 Special Council Meetings

Lawyers from the four municipalities of Greater Victoria are meeting with E. S. Farr, transportation consultant, this afternoon to iron out the difficulties encountered in getting the by-law to set up the five-man transportation board for the area, Ald. H. M. Diggon, chairman of the Greater Victoria committee, said today.

Passage of the by-laws will probably necessitate special meetings of all four councils, Ald. Diggon said, if the board is to be set up in time to get the will for tenders out by the middle of June, which is the committee's intention.

"It is essential that the board be set up first, because the specifications state that the tendering companies are to deal with a board," he explained.

Although the municipalities have not the power to delegate full authority to the transportation board that it will need, once the unified system is in operation, Ald. Diggon indicated this would not hamper proceedings because the system cannot be under way before next year, and this will give time for the provincial legislature to pass the necessary legislation.

While in Vancouver Tuesday, Ald. Diggon said that these matters were discussed with the Vancouver transportation committee, and it members promised support to Victoria in obtaining the legislation to set up the transportation board.

Questions of public and private ownership of the transportation systems were also discussed, he said, and it is the intention to put a clause in all agreements in both cities which would permit changing from one type of ownership to the other within a stated period if it is found desirable.

The transportation expert and engineer from Hamilton who are coming out to investigate the merits of public or private ownership will be in Victoria within the next week, Ald. Diggon said. They have been collecting data which will be of value in their investigation since their appointment two weeks ago.

Canadian Women Bolstered Morale Of Britain In War

The dowager Marchioness of Reading, mother-in-chief of the Women's Voluntary Services of Britain, in an interview today made it clear that Canadian women had contributed much to bolstering morale in the British Isles during the war.

"It wasn't only the tangible things you sent us," she said, "it was the intangibles that meant even more to us."

"Your trust, your belief that we would pull through and your encouragement kept us going. Renewed our faith."

Lady Reading arrived in the city this morning for a one-day visit. She addressed a public meeting at the Empress Hotel this afternoon and later met representatives of organizations who contributed much during the war.

With iron-grey hair and soft brown eyes in which there is a deep shadow of things seen and never to be forgotten, Lady Reading, in her blue-grey suit and maroon blouse, looked rested and relaxed, even at the end of a long trip across Canada.

She spoke briefly of the work accomplished by the W.V.S. during the war.

"Our work was where the bombs fell," she said quietly. "We were there while debris was still coming down. We knew where the men should dig and for whom; where children were billeted; found food for them to eat, clothes to wear. We were the eyes, ears and hands for many."

Looking out the windows of the drawing-room at Government House, over a vista of rhododendrons in full bloom to the blue waters of the straits and the Olympics bright in the morning sun, Lady Reading smiled.

"I don't blame them," she said, "it is very beautiful here."

Several leading U.S. magazines were journeying with the company to the Canadian location, Mr. Brown said.

In response to a special invitation from the L.O.D.E. of Duncan, Mrs. S. M. Arnold, president of the Victoria Aged Pensioners' Association; J. Jones, vice-president; Mrs. C. Johnson, second vice-president, and Mrs. Hardisty, went to Duncan yesterday in the spacious "Queen's Car," through the kindness of Mrs. Ross Palmer, Mrs. J. G. Hannigan, vice-president, and Mrs. C. P. Deykin, secretary. Cowichan Chapter, L.O.D.E., welcomed the guests.

Mrs. Arnold spoke on the work done by the Victoria Aged Pensioners' Association, which was formerly connected with the Vancouver branch. It became an independent body four years ago, she said, and as a result its membership had increased from about 70 to nearly 300. It was decided to form a similar organization in Duncan on the same pattern as the Victoria one.

T. A. Cresswell has informed the association that the army hut, to be placed at Kings Road and Rose Street, will be on the ground some time this week and that a room will be set aside as a restaurant, fully furnished, for Victoria Aged Pensioners.

Plan New Driveway To Jubilee Hospital From Fort Street

Main driveway leading to the Royal Jubilee Hospital will shortly be established on Fort Street, opposite Duchess.

Start on the new driveway immediately was announced at the monthly meeting of the hospital board of directors Tuesday, presided over by George H. Stevens.

Progress on the new maternity wing was discussed with indications that the official opening of the building would take place in the near future.

Reports for April showed that 797 patients were admitted to Royal Jubilee and 105 babies were born there. There were 1,126 outpatients, compared with 783 for the corresponding month last year.

OPERATING COSTS UP

Operating reports showed steadily increasing costs in hospital supplies.

Increase of two cents a quart in the price of milk, it was shown, would mean an increased expenditure of more than $3,000 for milk supplies to the hospital.

Mention was made of the increasing price of drugs, which is adding to the cost of hospital operation considerably.

Report of registered nurses of B.C. showing promotions and honors awarded to graduates of hospital nursing school members who served with the armed forces in the war, gives Jubilee Hospital a leading place.

Trees From B.C. Form Large Part Of Danish Forests

A great part of Denmark's forests have been grown from B.C.'s Douglas fir and Sitka spruce from Queen Charlotte Islands, according to Carl Syrach Larsen, director of the state arboretum at Charlottelund, Denmark, who is in Victoria to study forests and seeds here.

Douglas fir seed was sent by David Douglas from Fort Vancouver on the Columbia River in 1826, and the Sitka spruce seed was later imported to grow on Denmark's west coast as protection against the heavy winds blowing in from the North Sea over Denmark.

Sitka spruce from the Queen Charlottes was ideal for Denmark's west coast, Mr. Larsen said, owing to the climate in which the trees grew in the northern B.C. islands.

Not necessarily the best trees from B.C. were grown in Denmark because it was found preferable to take seeds from trees which would be adaptable to the habits of Denmark.

During the last 150 years, Mr. Larsen estimated, Denmark's forests had doubled in size. However, during the war the occupying Germans took many trees for their own use.

Before he left for Vancouver this afternoon, Mr. Larsen went to Esquimalt to inspect a species of aspen peculiar to this locality.

Powell River Men To Disregard Lines

VANCOUVER (CP) — A.F.L. unionists at the Powell River pulp and paper mill will disregard C.I.O.-International Woodworkers of America picket lines placed on log booms at the plant.

The I.W.A. claim that the booms are "hot" was challenged Tuesday night by John Sherman of Tacoma, Wash., international fifth vice-president of the International Brotherhood of Pulp, Sulphite and Paper Mill Workers, representing employees at the mill.

The A.F.L. decision means the Powell River mill, which supplies many western Canadian and United States newspapers with newsprint, will continue to function as long as lumber already cut lasts.

Commissioner Tells Of Police History

At a meeting of the Catholic Youth Organization Monday in the Auditorium of St. Ann's Academy, Provincial Police Commissioner T. S. Parsons gave an interesting address on the history of policing from the earliest ages to the present day.

Commissioner Parsons spoke of his early days in police work as a young man in South Africa and later of his experience in this province. He stressed the basic part in police work each individual constable plays, and how important an efficient and honest police force is at all times.

Through the whole province of B.C., he said, there are 110 substations divided into four chief zones. He spoke highly of the services rendered by the Oblate missionaries in the vast reaches of northern British Columbia.

400 Veterans Enjoy Banquet And Smoker

Nearly 400 veterans of the two world wars and the Boer War gathered at the Empress Hotel Tuesday night for the annual banquet of the Army and Navy Veterans in Canada, Victoria Unit No. 12.

Brig. J. Sutherland Brown, chairman, proposed a toast to Greater Victoria and British Columbia. Mayor Percy E. George, answering, said Victoria was on the eve of expansion never before seen in the city and that British Columbia was leader of all the provinces in the Dominion.

The mayor urged that all should support their civic government so that Greater Victoria might "go over the top as a community."

The toast and reply constituted the only speech making at the gathering of war veterans, who at the banquet and at the smoker which followed in the clubrooms on Wharf and Broughton Streets, devoted the evening to old and new songs and the interchange of reminiscences.

Adjourn Damage Suit For More Evidence

So the defence could secure more evidence, Mr. Justice A. M. Manson adjourned the $10,000 damage suit of Kathleen Brackner against Margaret Rhodes of Beacon Taxi.

The case was adjourned at the request of Norman W. Whitaker, K.C., defence counsel, so that evidence could be taken on commission from Charles W. Thompson, one of the passengers in the cab in which Miss Brackner alleges she suffered injuries. Thompson is now residing in Ontario.

Co-defendants in the action are George Haslam, driver of the car, Cecil Rhodes and William Heller.

Const. J. Lockie testified Tuesday that three of the passengers in the taxi had told him the car was not exceeding 30 to 35 miles an hour at the time of the accident. He was satisfied the driver had not been drinking.

Cecil Rhodes told the court the taxi concerned was owned by Mrs. Rhodes and was not a Beacon cab, although it had been sent out by the Beacon cab dispatcher.
